

Rare Mauser fetched record price

Holt's of London is an international auctioneering company for modern and antique firearms.

Their representative in South Africa, Charles Montgomery, of Suburban Guns in Cape Town recently discovered a rare 7,63mm Mauser semi-automatic pistol in Africa. He obtained it from a descendent of the original owner.

Just 100 of these very rare guns were ever made and this particular one has matching numbers on the pistol and the wooden holster-stock. The inscription "WAFFENFABRIK MAUSER OBENDORF A/N" is clearly visible on the breech. At an auction that was held on the 21st of March 2013 by Holt's in London this pistol was sold for the record price 22 000,00 Pounds.

Charles is inviting people that may have antique or other valuable fire arms to contact him on 021 797 8787.

Charles Montgomery with the rare Mauser pistol he discovered in Africa.